

Call for Nomination of the 15th Asia Pacific Young Researcher Award

IEEE Communications Society (ComSoc) Asia Pacific Board (APB) sponsors the “IEEE ComSoc Asia Pacific Young Researcher Award”. This award honors young researchers who have been active in IEEE ComSoc publications and conference activities over the last three years (January 2017 to December 2019).

Eligibility

- The upper age limit for the nominee is 35 (i.e., the nominee must be born on or after 1984/01/01).
- The nominee must be a ComSoc member of Asia-Pacific region.
- The “IEEE ComSoc Asia-Pacific Best Young Researcher Award” will be given to the best candidate, and other candidates will be considered for the “Outstanding Young Researcher Award(s)”.
- Self-nomination is permitted.

Selection Criteria

Creativity, research impact, and contributions to ComSoc activities.

Award Prize

- The recipient of “IEEE ComSoc Asia Pacific Best Young Researcher Award” will receive a certificate and an honorarium of US $500.
- Each recipient of the “IEEE ComSoc Asia-Pacific Outstanding Young Researcher Award” will receive a certificate and an honorarium of US $250.

Nomination and Selection Process

Please complete and email Nomination Form to apb-officers-tac@ieee.org with the subject of “2020 Asia Pacific Young Researcher Award Nomination” before the deadline. The Nomination Form is attached.

The APB Young Researcher Award Committee evaluates the eligible nominations and select the awardee(s), and the committee members are as follows:

Wei Zhang	(Chair)	Australia
Chan-Byoung Chae		Korea
Hung-Yun Hsieh		Taiwan
Neelesh Mehta		India
Kaoru Ota		Japan
Tony Quek		Singapore
Lingyang Song		China

Important Dates

- Nomination Submission Deadline: July 31, 2020
- Announcement of Awardees: October 1, 2020
- Award Ceremony at IEEE Globecom 2020 (December 2020)

Any inquiries should be directed to the following email address.

APB Technical Affairs Committee: apb-officers-tac@ieee.org

Nomination for the 15th ComSoc Asia Pacific Young Researcher Award

(Nomination Deadline: 31 July 2020)

1. Nominee's Information

Name:
Date of Birth:
Affiliation:
Mailing Address:
Email:
ComSoc member (Yes/No):
IEEE member number:
ORCID:

2. Nominator's Information

Name:
Email:
Affiliation:

3. Nominee's Education

Degrees	Year	Educational Institution	Location

4. Nominee's Professional History

From (year)	To (year)	Name of Employer	Location

- Explain how the Nominee's one or two most distinctive technical contributions have contributed to the advancement or application of engineering, science, and technology. Explain how these technical contributions of unusual distinction have had significant impact on society. (300 words maximum)
- List the three most important items of tangible and verifiable evidence supporting the one or two technical accomplishments identified in Section 5. For example: the three items are technical publications, patents, standards, etc. In sentence form, state the technical significance and lasting societal impact of each item. (200 words maximum)
- IEEE ComSoc Activities (in list form, state the role of the Nominee)
- Technical Awards (in list form, state the year of the award)